Posted Oct 11, 2004, 2:42 PM ET by Marc Orchant

The new issue of The Office Letter includes a review of Stealth Surfer, a USB drive that includes a complete, password-protected copy of Netscape 7.0 configured to keep all of your profile settings and downloads secure on a removable drive. Four capacities (128 MB, 256 MB, 512 MB, and 1 GB) are available. A version with Firefox installed should be available later in the year.
